Working together to support dogs across the world

Why do dogs need our help?

Dogs live in a world which isn't designed for them and as such we see dog's in pain that can be expressed both physically and behaviourally and often goes undiagnosed.

What can we do?

Over the last twenty years Galen Myotherapy has made significant positive change to thousands of dog's lives through choice-led treatment and education.

We have successfully built awareness of the negative impacts of slippery floors, ball throwing and highlighted the importance of functional rehabilitation. It's wonderful to see these messages are now more common in the canine industry but we need your help to build awareness so we can reach and help more dogs.

Join us in the sharing of knowledge

We believe in the sharing of knowledge and in giving natural, simple and practical solutions to help improve and maintain a dog's musculoskeletal and myofascial health.

As such we have created a series of accessible and low cost online courses so anyone with access to the internet can learn how to support their dogs' long-term health at home.

These courses are intended for anyone who wishes to learn more about their own dog, canine charities or professionals looking for CPD (Continuing Professional Development) to enhance their knowledge.

There are so many dogs globally (and their people) who could hugely benefit from gaining this scientifically substantiated knowledge. We intend to continue our mission to improve the health of dogs across the globe, by involving like minded partners, like yourself, so we can work together to build awareness and educate through the sharing of knowledge.

We welcome you to join us on our journey.

Our online CPD courses

Introduction to Canine Massage and Visual Assessment

Dogs do not express pain or discomfort in a way that is easy or obvious for us to interpret. This course offers different observations and mechanisms that will help to understand how dogs are feeling within their body, from a physical perspective, and also massage techniques that are safe to apply but are proven to help ease and manage muscle pain in dogs. It also gives a fundamental instruction and understanding to using 'dogs choice' within a treatment.

Understanding movement in a dog is not only fascinating but gives a fantastic insight into what maybe 'blocking' a dog's mobility and physical health. This course gives a practical, natural, and functional descriptions to how a dog uses their body from an anatomical perspective, explaining their functional movement patterns, helping to understand what is good and what is impaired mobility.

Movement Of the Canine

Soft Tissue Injury and Repair

In Galen Myotherapy's long experience, something that could make such a positive difference to dog's ongoing health and mobility, is a greater understanding about what happens to a dog's soft tissue (primarily muscle, fascia) when a dog is injured. To understand the natural healing process, and couple that with management will really help to lessen the ongoing impact damaged muscle has with compensation and ultimate postural adjustments.

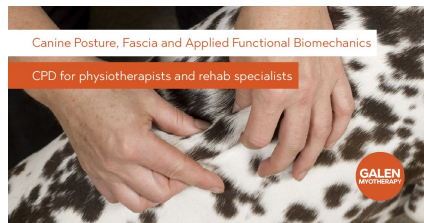

Canine First Aid Course

This course is a must have for anyone who cares for a dog. The course was written and it delivered by Andy Mead MRCVS BVet Med, and Veterinary Surgeon with over 15 years of experience. It covers the common accidents and scenarios that we do not want to encounter but accidents to happen! It prepares you to manage and support your dog, through treatment but also giving a life saving triage protocol. "This course saved my dog's life, without this knowledge, she would have died!"

CPD for Canine Physiotherapists and Rehab Specialists

This CPD is for canine physiotherapist and rehab specialists who are looking for an in-depth course and a complementary perspective on how to incorporate functional anatomy and advanced massage techniques within a rehabilitation plan. We'll examine real case scenarios and have an in depth look into canine posture and how that can form an accurate biomechanical analysis. By looking at posture from a 360 perspective it will give a better insight into movement patterns, gait issues and pain/discomfort.

This CPD is for canine hydrotherapists who are looking to complement their services by integrating Galen Myotherapy programmes into their hydrotherapy practice to offer enhanced rehabilitation outcomes. The course includes targeted functional exercises which can be given to clients to do at home to help maximise their dog's hydrotherapy sessions.

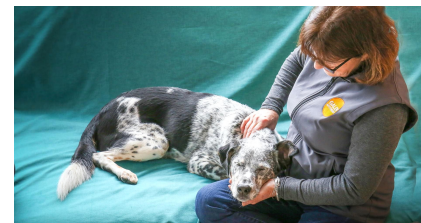

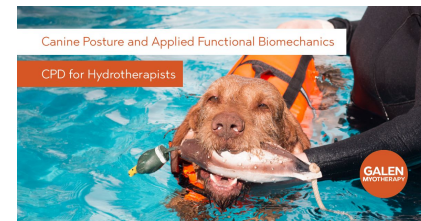

CPD for Vet Nurses

Complement and bring added value to your veterinary services by integrating Galen Myotherapy programmes within your osteoarthritis and obesity support clinics. This course provides practical knowledge on social and physical development which you can pass onto owners so they can best support their dog from puppy to adulthood.

Intensive practical CPD for Canine Professionals

This attended course run by Julia Robertson is for experienced canine professionals looking to upskill their practical application. It is 2 days of intensive hands-on training using real life scenarios with 4 hours of pre learning which can be accessed through our online learning platform.

How we can help you to generate revenue

We create a unique 10% discount code for you to share with your network via email or social media.

The discount code can be applied to any of our Partner Products.

For anyone who signs up to a course using your unique discount code, we will give you share of the net revenue. You can find a full breakdown of how the revenue share works for each product on the next page.

*Please note the transaction fees are based on UK customers. For customers outside of the UK a slightly higher transaction fee is charged by our payment provider. This will be reflected in the net revenue and therefore partner revenue share.

Reporting

Every 3 months we'll send you a report of how many customers have used your code and transfer the revenue share. Please refer to the Partner Agreement for more detailed information.

Our marketing plans for Q1 2023

For the start of the 2023 we are focusing on educating people about the importance of Positive PACT and why it is the bedrock of how we work at Galen Myotherapy. We are also hosting a live webinar in March 'Why do dogs... need Galen Myotherapy'.

We feel it's important to start the year highlighting the foundations of who we are and what we do so we can educate dog guardians and XpeersK in why Galen Myotherapy is an important therapy within a multi-disciplined treatment plan.
